Town Topics

Did you make any New Year resolutions? If you did you only have 360 days in which to break them.

In going to help celebrate the passing of the old year and the incoming 1921, I was in the Loop in Chi and underlined where to go, I hailed a taxi, thinking the driver could tip me off where joy would reign supreme. After opening the door a strong odor of anti-volstead fluid filled the atmosphere, and when the driver asked "where to?" I told him to take me where he picked up his last fare. In a few minutes I was in a cafe filled with music and song.

When midnight came everyone was cheering and outside people were rattling tin cans—some were riding in them.

One fellow in back of me wouldn't believe it was New Years. His watch stopped at half past eleven.

A young couple were at the table opposite me, and the girl was always singing "Sweet Kisses I Got in the Night." They left shortly after 12—probably had to collect.

As Medbury in the Examiner says—The old motto used to be "Eat, Drink and be Merry;" now it's "Eat and Be Merry," and if prices don't soon drop, it will just be "Merry."

News item—Charles F. Caldwell has been relieved as general overseer of one of the churches in Zion City. Two women and seven men of his church filed a bill in the Lake county court at Waukegan "firing" him because they disliked his practices. Among the charges are "improper use of the word pulpit," "frequent use of the word 'damn' in a worldly way" and having "taken off his coat and ejected one by force from his presence."

A nice place—Zion.

Alumni Defeat High School at Basket Ball

Antioch high school alumni won at basket ball from the high school five Monday evening, 17 to 14.

Both teams played fast ball and the score was practically even up to the last few minutes of play, when the ex-high schoolers forced a three-point lead.

The alumni consisted of such stars as Morley, Nabor, James, Hal Smith, Trieger and Verrier.

Friday night the high school team meets Waukegan at the local gym.

Waukegan Abstract Co. in New Headquarters

Lake County Title & Trust Co., located in old Masonic Temple building since 1898, will remove Saturday, December 31, to its new office, one and a half block west of old location, to No. 220 Washington street. The company was incorporated on September 1, 1898, and has steadily grown until larger vaults and more space were necessary. Two large vaults have been constructed in the new office lately vacated by the Conrad & O'Shea furniture store and better accommodations assured to care for the public.

The officers of the company are F. S. Rickards, president; Wm. R. Folsom, vice president; Alvah L. Rogers, secretary and treasurer and resident manager, and Charles E. Jack, assistant secretary.

The company is associated with the Chicago Title & Abstract Co. on guarantee policies whose assets exceed $16,000,000.

Income Tax Blanks in This District Feb. 1

Those who would file their income tax schedule at once need not make haste, as A. N. Tiffany, deputy collector for the Waukegan district with headquarters in the postoffice building in Waukegan, announced last week that it probably will be more than a month before the necessary blanks will be available, due to a change from last year.

Mr. Tiffany stated that the revised blanks would be available about Feb. 1, but in case they come in earlier, the taxpayers would be promptly informed.

While the exemption for married persons has been raised the minimum for unmarried persons remains at $1,000, he declared. "The last day of filing the individual income tax schedules is March 15," Collector Tiffany said, "but in order to avoid the usual last minute rush and the imposing of penalties, the taxpayers should file as soon as we get the blanks, which will be here in time to prevent eleventh hour confusion and disappointment."

Mr. Tiffany now has his headquarters in Evanston but he was appointed with the understanding that Lake county be the boundary of his activities. As it is now the Waukegan office is open only the last two and the first two days of each month, but he is endeavoring to make Waukegan a separate district, which will enable him to keep the local office open every working day of the month. This would be a big advantage to local taxpayers, and Mr. Tiffany believes the business in the county is sufficient to warrant the de-districting.

Raymond Nett Died at Wilmot Thursday Morning

Raymond Nett, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Nett, died early Thursday morning after an illness of several weeks from a complication of diseases. Raymond who was just six and a half had been a pupil in the Wilmot primary room this past year, where up until the time of his withdrawal because of illness, he had been a great favorite and a very apt pupil.

A high mass was sung for the child at 10 o'clock Saturday morning by Rev. Brasky at the Holy Name church. Burial was in the family plot at the Holy Name cemetery, and there was a large attendance at the services. The flower laden casket was carried by four little playmates, Raymond's, John Menler, Law of Raymond, Warren Winn and Arlene Stenseth.

The little boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Nett, and two sisters, Gertrude and Mrs. Nett by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nett and Mr. and Mrs. B. Nett. Among those from away who attended the funeral of Raymond were: Elgin, Ben Siehoff, Burlington; A. Brever, Burlington; Henry Overcamp, Addison, Ill.; Mrs. G. Adams, Clarence and Mary Conway, Ringwood, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Lentz, Gertrude Lentz, Bassett.

GOV. SMALL AWAITS START OF TRIAL

Due to Postponement, Trial Will Probably Not Start Until January 16

FACES BUT ONE CHARGE

Action taken by Judge Claire C. Edwards has been interpreted as an indication that the Governor Small case will probably be brought to trial shortly after the middle of the month.

A letter issued this week to the public by Gov. Small follows:

"The indictments which were pending last Thursday noon in Lake county were returned by the grand jury of Sangamon county last July. It will not be difficult for the people of Illinois to recall the wave of ill feeling that was caused to flow over the state by the character of the propaganda that had for its purpose the destruction of my good name throughout the state and to deprive the people of my usefulness as their governor.

"What occurred Thursday noon in the circuit court of Lake county will lay bare to the public mind the methods employed, the inspirations causing these indictments; and, I am quite curious to know if those who circulated that propaganda so freely in last July will be as active in giving to the people of this great state a full and truthful recital of the spectacle in the circuit court room of Lake county upon the 29th day of December, 1921.

"From the beginning, I have been most desirous of having these cases tried. The public has known that the chief and only charge against me as a state officer was the charge of embezzlement while I was treasurer of the state of Illinois.

"This case Thursday was set for trial by Judge Edwards on January 9, 1922. My attorneys announced that they were ready for trial. The state's attorney of Sangamon county and the attorney General of Illinois refused to prosecute this case, and, over my objection and against my protests and wishes, the state's attorney and attorney general dismissed this suit without a trial and without affording to me an opportunity to disclose and establish the fact that they have no case, that they never had one, and that I have never illegally received, either directly or indirectly, one penny of the money of this state while acting as its state treasurer, as a private individual, or in any other capacity.

"I am naturally somewhat embittered over this procedure. A charge of so serious a character to be treated so lightly by the prosecution which caused my indictment, depriving me an opportunity to show the utter fallacy of the charge, is quite past my understanding of fair play and honest procedure.

"It should be borne in mind that Lake county is a county accepted by the state of Illinois and in that county by the present grand jury, any fair-minded person, at the present instant, will not think it a test degree for criticism me in the slightest, or any of declining to have my case on county, my cases, tried in Sangamon county, Illinois.

"Now the only charge left against me, the misdemeanor case which I do not cover my term of office, is under trial. As for this case, when the prosecution has particularized and stated the nature of the charges which are made against me, I am very desirous that the case proceed rapidly to trial with the consciousness that there will be an immediate acquittal in this proceeding.

Mr. LeForge. "If your Honor please, of all these indictments, the first case which your Honor has set down for trial is the only case which charged Len Small with the doing of any wrongful act while an officer of the state of Illinois.

"He is here alone in that case, charged with the crime of embezzlement. It is in that case which is directed against him while he occupied a state position. That case, as your Honor has mentioned, is set in exactly the order that it came to this court from Sangamon county, and I can't conceive, under the important

ESTIMATE OF ROAD IS GIVEN BY PRESIDENT

Calls for Expenditure of $99,880—State to Rebate About One-third

STATE IS WAITING ACTION

At the meeting of the board Tuesday night President King presented the engineer's estimate for the paving improvement through the village.

The estimate gives an expenditure of $99,880, of which the state's share will be one-third, or $33,293, leaving a total cost to the village of about $66,587.

The village is to let contracts for the improvement and assessment will be levied for the full amount, the state to rebate their share. This is the only method of procedure allowed by law in a joint improvement.

The estimate shows slightly advanced figures against the first estimate due to the fact that a 54 foot street is now contemplated instead of a 45 foot roadway and a partial brick pavement. The board, after a very careful consideration of all the improvements in the estimate, which includes a complete drainage system, catch basin, manholes, etc., expressed their satisfaction of the estimate.

It now seems as though the town is ready to clinch the long standing fight of two years or more for the improvement of the main street. Difficulties as to the width, grade and type of paving have nearly all been ironed out, and with the general public in full accord with the board.

A public hearing has been called for Tuesday, Jan. 17. With this out of the way the contract should be ready for letting in very short order. Mr. Russell informs us that the state is waiting for action on our part and the town president, Mr. King, expressed the wish that the townsfolk would give the board the fullest cooperation in pushing this matter to a close.

MARKETING CO. PLANT IN OPERATION

The rumors reported in this section to the fact that the centralization plant in Chicago has been condemned is denied by officials of the Marketing Co., and they further state that the plant is in actual operation and at present is handling 200 cans of milk a day.

The surplus milk situation of this section is one that demands immediate action on the part of the farmers of the Chicago district, it being stated that there is an overabundance of milk amounting to close on to 2,000,000 lbs. daily. This condition is going to prove a big hardship to the farmers and it should be met as an organization.

It is reported that Nestle's plant at Burlington has not set a price for milk for the month and it is rumored that they contemplate offering a price of $1.00 a hundred.

The Marketing Company is making big progress with their new contracts and many new and old members are being signed up daily.

Action is being taken to collect the back spread money not paid by the farmers who have dropped out of the Marketing Co.

STATE DROPS
SMALL CHARGE

Illinois Governor to Be Tried for Conspiracy, a Misdemeanor.

TRIAL SET FOR JANUARY 9

Charge of Embezzlement Is Nolle Prossed After Judge Edwards Hears Arguments on Validity of Indictments.

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 31.—Gov. Len Small will be tried for conspiracy, a misdemeanor. The charge of embezzling state funds was nolle prossed after Judge Clair C. Edwards heard arguments on validity of indictments against the governor. January 9 was set as date for trial.

The indictments had been returned by the Sangamon county grand jury at Springfield. The case was brought here on a change of venue, the governor having contended he could not get a fair trial in Springfield.

Governor Small issued a statement denouncing State's Attorney Mortimer for withdrawing the embezzlement charge. He said he wanted to go to trial on that charge and be formally acquitted by a jury.

Judge Edwards ruled out the joint embezzlement indictment against Governor Small, Verne C. Curtis and Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, knocked out several counts in the conspiracy to embezzle indictment and then ruled that the single embezzlement indictment and the conspiracy indictment against the governor were valid and that he should go to trial on the embezzlement charge. The governor's attorneys announced they were ready to go to trial immediately.

State's Attorney Mortimer and James H. Wilkerson, representing Attorney General Brundage, objected. They insisted they had the right to say which indictment should be used and demanded that the governor be tried on the conspiracy indictment and not the embezzlement charge, which accused the governor of appropriating to his own use funds of the state.

Attorneys for the governor argued his right to go to trial on the embezzlement charge and to present his side to the people of the state. They pointed out also the conspiracy indictment on which the state sought to rest its case against the governor was only a misdemeanor, whereas the embezzlement charge was a felony.

Attorneys for the state held a secret conference after Judge Edwards ruled the governor should be placed on trial for embezzlement.

At the end of the conference State's Attorney Mortimer electrified the courtroom by offering a motion to nolle pross the embezzlement charge.

Attorney Wilkerson, on behalf of the attorney general of the state, informed the court he concurred.

The governor's attorneys resisted this movement as strenuously as they did the attempt to bring the governor to trial first on the conspiracy charge.

Judge Edwards ruled, however, that he was powerless to insist on the embezzlement indictment being sustained with both the state's attorney and the attorney general asking that it be withdrawn. He announced he would therefore grant the motion of the state to wipe out the embezzlement charge.

This left only the conspiracy charge pending against the governor, and Judge Edwards set the trial for January 9. Meanwhile the state's counsel will furnish a bill of particulars to which attorneys for the governor will make answer in open court on January 9.

The governor immediately dictated his statement to the people of the state denouncing the Sangamon county officials, the state's attorney and the attorney general's associates for having indicted him on a charge of stealing public money and then, after this charge had been spread broadcast over the state for six months, to come into open court and ask that the charge be withdrawn.

LIBERTY BONDS WORTH MORE

Advance in Price Has Added $2,000,000 to Their Value This Year.

New York, Dec. 31.—The advance in Liberty bonds this year has added approximately $2,000,000,000 to their value, it was estimated. The greater part of the gain was made in the latter part of the year, the buying movement starting about September 1 and reaching its crest in the latter part of November when many issues sold at the highest levels for the year. The buying was for investment purposes, attracted by the low prices many bonds had been selling at. The greatest advance was made in Liberty 3 1/2's, which rose $10.70 from the low price of the year. The fourth Liberty's rose about ten points which increased the value of the $6,350,000,000 outstanding bonds more than $600,000,000. The treasury, it is estimated, has retired approximately $61,000,000 of Liberty bonds this year.

Passes Away at the Age of Sixty-One in His Apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania died here at 11:40 o'clock at night after a brief illness.

Senator Penrose, who was sixty-one years of age, had been complaining for some days of a severe cold and influenza, but it was stated repeatedly by his friends that his condition was improving and that he would be able to resume his duties in the senate. His recent work as chairman of the finance committee in handling tax and tariff legislation was a greater physical hardship, his friends said, than he realized.

Reports from Senator Penrose's apartment at the Wardman Park hotel earlier in the night indicated that his condition was not so good and physicians were constantly with him. The first notice of his death was telephoned by a physician from his apartment to the hotel desk.

The senator died of pulmonary thrombosis, as a result of heart failure, Dr. Roy D. Adams, his physician, announced. Doctor Adams and two nurses were the only persons in the room when the end came.

Mr. Penrose, one of the most interesting personalities in the upper house, which he entered in 1897 as the successor to the late Senator J. Donald Cameron, was one of the wealthiest bachelors in the senate. An "old guard" Republican, he was a member of four important senate committees—namely, the finance committee, of which he was chairman; banking and currency, immigration and naval affairs.

Chief Lieutenant of Senator Matthew Stanley Quay, whose representative he had been in the Pennsylvania legislature for many years, Penrose did not at first take a very prominent part in Republican party councils at Washington. Until his death, however, he never lost prestige, as the leader of his party in his own state.

Senator Penrose was in unyielding opposition of the Wilson administration and particularly of the draft of the treaty of peace as submitted to the senate by President Wilson.

He consistently fought prohibition legislation. He seldom made speeches in the senate, reading few prepared addresses and those almost only on fiscal affairs, but he was quick in partisan repartee. His enemies charged him with representing the "interests."

He was perhaps the largest man physically in the senate, standing 6 feet 4 inches in height, and weighing close to 300 pounds. He traced his ancestry back for many thousands of years and in his veins flowed the blood of some of the most distinguished American families.

Born in Philadelphia on November 1, 1860, young Penrose was educated by private tutors and at the Episcopal academy in his home city. At sixteen he entered Harvard, from which he graduated in 1881. He studied law with Wayne MacVeagh and George T. Blapham and was admitted to the bar in 1883. Entering immediately into politics, a year later he was elected to the state legislature, and from there went into national politics.

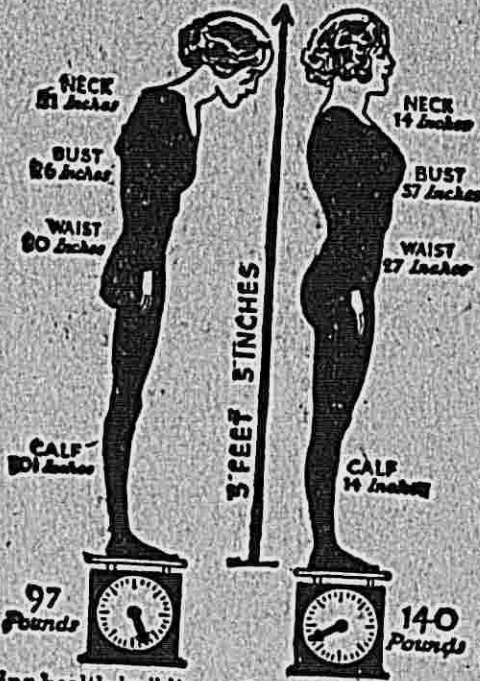

NEW PEACE DOLLARS OUT

New Issue of This United States Coin First Change of Design Since 1878.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The new silver dollar of the 1921 design—the peace dollar—will be ready for distribution Tuesday, it was said at the treasury. Coinage of the new dollar is being rushed by the Philadelphia mint, officials said. The first dollar of the new series struck off has been presented to President Harding. The new dollar has the head of Liberty on one side and on the other side a dove upon a mountain top, clutching an olive branch, struck by the rays of the sun, with the word "peace" beneath it. This is the first change in the design of the dollar since 1878, officials said, and will remain as the design of the dollar for twenty-five years, unless changed by legislation, as the coinage laws prohibit any change in the design of the standard silver dollars more often than once in that period, except by special legislation.

DRUG DREAMS CALLED MYTH

Research Has Shown That Habitual Users of Opium Can Do No Lasting Good Work.

The gulf between the songs of popples that breathe of sleep, the golden and green dragons, and the ecstatic dreams that mark the "literature" of drug addiction and the dismal side of the vice which the police behold, is brought out in an article by Dr. Carlton Simon, who emphasizes in the Scientific American the fact that opium, hashish, cocaine, heroin, morphine and the rest are far from lyrical.

"From the standpoint of the police," he writes, "all the romance of the songs and short stories is swept away on the fumes of a drug which brings depression, poverty, despair, and death." It has long been suspected that the drug dream, as a literary motif, was much overrated. By the time the addict is able to write of his visions—if he has them—after a debauch, he is ill and purposeless and ready for another dose. For anybody but a DeQuincey a snail is inspiration enough for a drug poem or tale. Go further, and the dreams vanish in a lonesome reality.

Not From the Heart.

He had come home with a breath—one of those breaths that makes a fellow about as popular with his wife as a fly in a candy kitchen. The Missus had company and tried to ease him through the hall to the kitchen, but he was feeling jovial and wished to say cute things. So he said his wife an unusually bitter word of complaint. "Huh!" she blurted. "That didn't come from the heart. That came from a bottle!"—Indianapolis News.

Walter—Yes, sir. (Shuts the window.)

First Guest—Walter, are you why have you closed the window again at once.

Walter—Very good, sir. (Proprietor.) Sir, one of the men wants the window open, other wants me to shut it. I do?

"Those Who Dance Must Pay The Fiddler"

There's a settlement in profit or loss, for nearly every indulgence.

Sometimes the pay day is long deferred, and in that case the settlement may bear compound interest.

Often a payment in ill health is required for the dance had with tea or coffee during earlier years. Sometimes the collection comes in sleeplessness, sometimes in headaches, sometimes in high blood pressure, or in nervous indigestion—sometimes in all these penalties.

Nerves won't always stand the whipping of tea and coffee's drug, caffeine.

If you've been dancing to tea or coffee's fiddling, why keep on till payment time comes? If you're beginning to pay, now, why not cancel the contract?

There's an easy and pleasant way to avoid tea and coffee's penalties, as thousands have found who have changed to Postum. It is a delight with any meal—rich, comforting and satisfying—and it never harms. Even the little children can have a breakfast cup of Postum, with no fear for what may happen to sensitive nerves.

Instead of paying penalties for your meal-time drink, let it pay benefits to you, by giving natural health a full chance—and begin the new arrangement today. Any grocer will sell you, or any good restaurant will serve you Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
